Bonnie,
It's a great kid, stay as funny as you are already + you'll make a great comedian (and 2nd soprano, too).
Lots of Luck in the future!)
Love,
Patti Ryan

Bonnie,

I really don't know what to say, but I sure hope you enjoy these four years here as much as I have. It is something you will always look back on with pride.

I thank you for being my listening post and Ann Landers. I sure appreciate it.

Good luck and much success to you in the years to come and much happiness to you always.

Always,

Donna Hicks

Bonnie,
this year has been quite an experience for us all. We are together, our enemy,
Mr. Hall, & our good luck. Have a nice summer & Be sure to write letter
Love
Donna

P.S. Don't forget to write & come back next year!

Dear Bonnie,
Chorus is my happiest
+ richest memory of high school. I know that if you'll stick with it + give music a part of your heart, you'll never regret it. Love for music can stay with you all your life.

Good luck + God bless you always.

The 1967 Aegis is a story in pictures of life at Lincoln-Way Community High School. New and exciting ideas have come, and with them new trends of thought and action. Lincoln-Way is moving along with the spirited new generation. The staff has added a touch of the informal to the yearbook through our candid section. We have tried to show what a typical day is like at Lincoln-Way, everything from a Carnaby Street sock hop to a new addition to our building is pictured. We hope we have given you pleasure today and in years to come.

AEGIS 67

The mighty Knights stampede opposing Vikings. Mike Yeager takes the lead in the onslaught.

Homecoming - 1966

Queen Bev Otis and Mr. Touchdown, Tom Hartnell, glow with happiness.

Homecoming is perhaps the most exciting activity that L-W students take part in. The enthusiasm began with the announcement of Mr. Touchdown and the candidates for court, and continued through the week, being climaxed by the actual Homecoming Day. Each day of the week prior to the game and dance held a special kind of enjoyment. Monday brought forth the announcement of the Queen and her court. Tuesday was appropriately designated as Honor Football Day. To honor the Queen and her court, Wednesday was Dress-Up Day. To add to the fun, Thursday was the day to wear comfortable sports clothes. A bonfire held Thursday night helped to make spirits soar. The excitement and anticipation which had been building up was let loose Friday as final preparations for the big day were made. There was a snake dance followed by a pep assembly, and the flats were decorated that night. Although the weather did not cooperate, the joy and enthusiasm of the crowd was still present. The dance was a success, and will be in student's memories for years to come. The 1966 Homecoming was truly a success.

Lincoln-Way students are warmed both by the exploding bonfire and the spirit of Homecoming.

Wendy Anderson holds the royal cloak of Bev Otis as Student Council President Bill Stanfill accompanies her.

At half time Queen Bev Otis greets the crowd.

Leigh Int-Hout, John Anderson, and Paulette Torkelson view the winning float.

Bev Otis Reigns

The aesthetic poet (Tim Ricketts) arrives on the scene much to the maidens' delight, the guards' dismay and the milkmaid's confusion.

Mixed Chorus Presents

Patience (Donna Guth) and Grosvenor (Dennis Huffman) tell each other of their love.

November 11, 12 and 13 brought Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "Patience" to Lincoln-Way. The operetta is an annual event presented by the Mixed Chorus. This year's delightful performance of "Patience" brought a full house to every show. "Patience" is the amusing tale of a milk maid named Patience who is hopelessly in love with the idealistic poet Grosvenor. Then there is the earthy poet Bunthorne who is hopelessly in love with Patience. To make matters worse, all of the soldiers are in love with the maidens who are in love with none other than Bunthorne. In the end everyone finds happiness except for poor Bunthorne who ends up with no one.

Lady Jayne (Jayne Wheeler), and Bunthorne (Tim Ricketts) discuss Patience's foolishness.

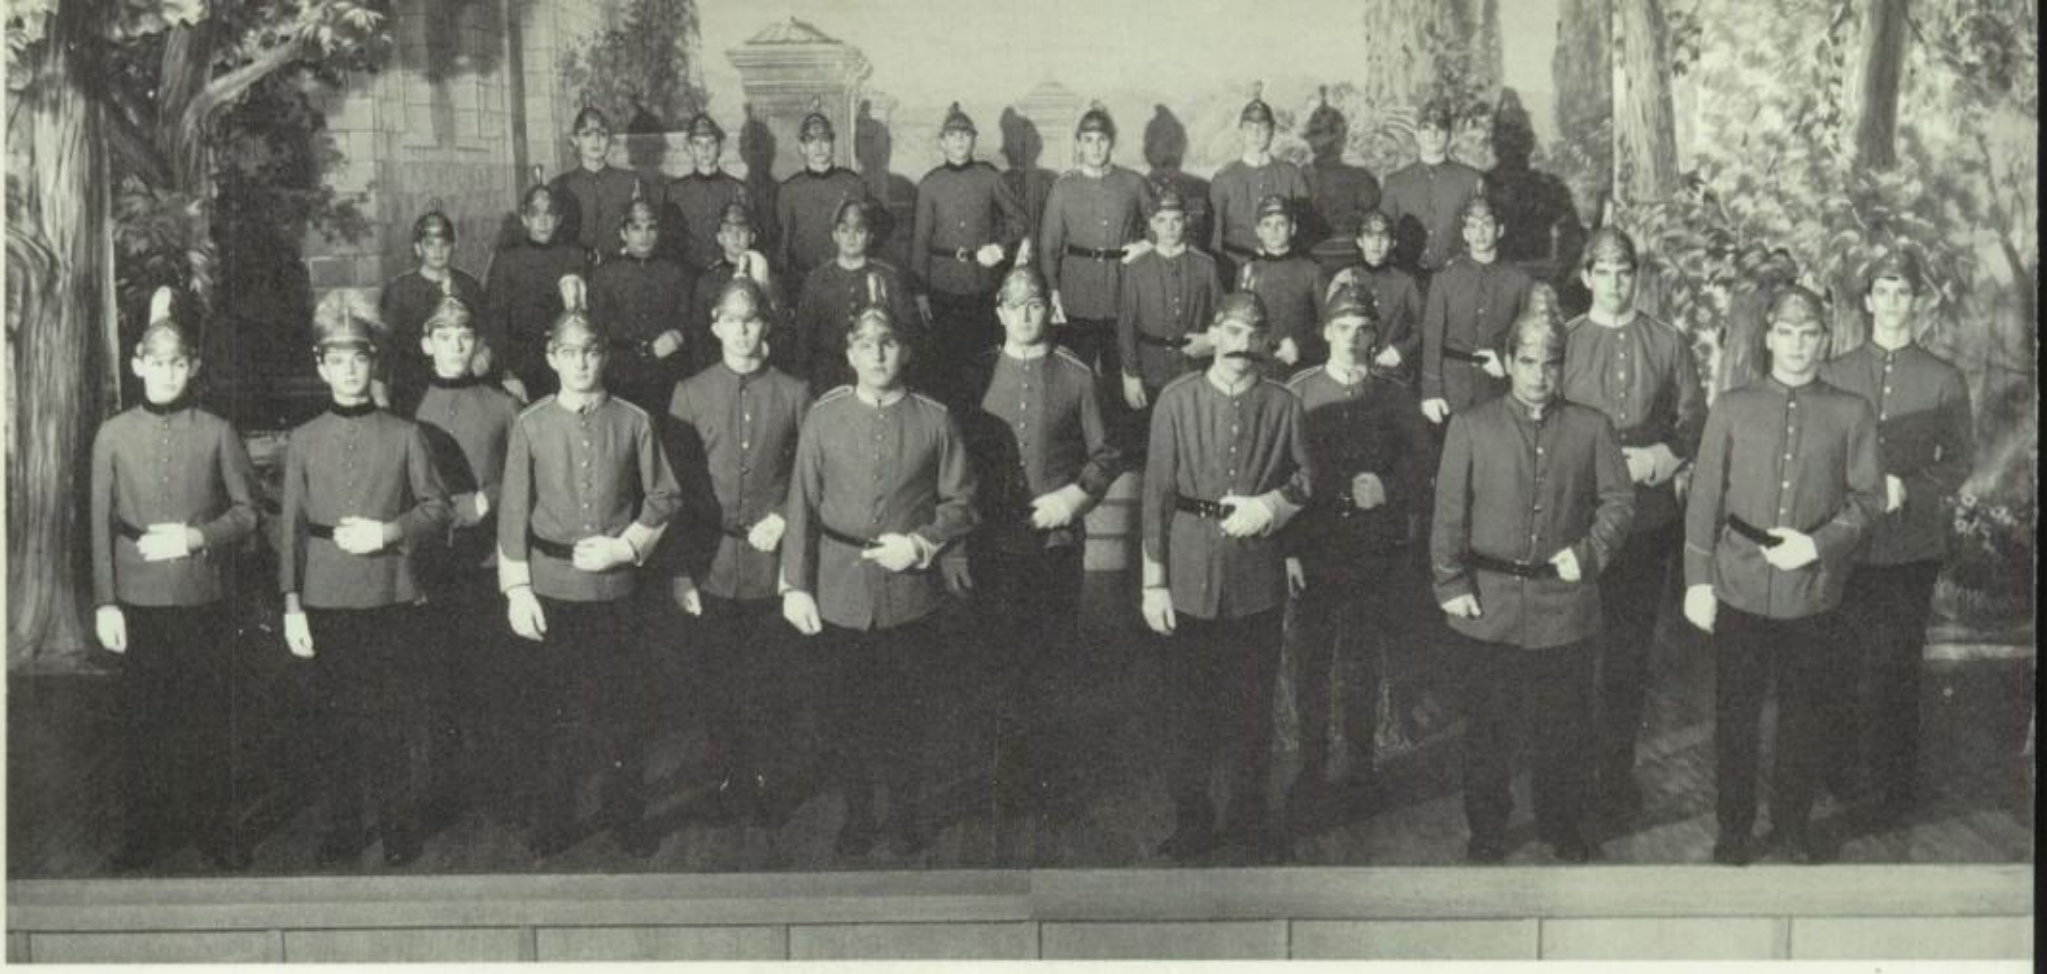
Grosvenor reads poetry to the lovesick maidens.

Patience

Karen Olson, Jayne Wheeler, Judy Kalkbrenner, and Bobbi Smith are depressed by the naive milkmaid, Patience.

Nancy Venckus and Tim Ricketts rehearse before the performance.

(L. - R.) Linda Istel, Kathy Haislet, and Joan Yunker try to relax before the performance.



The Boy's Chorus (Dragoon Guard).

Patience - 1967

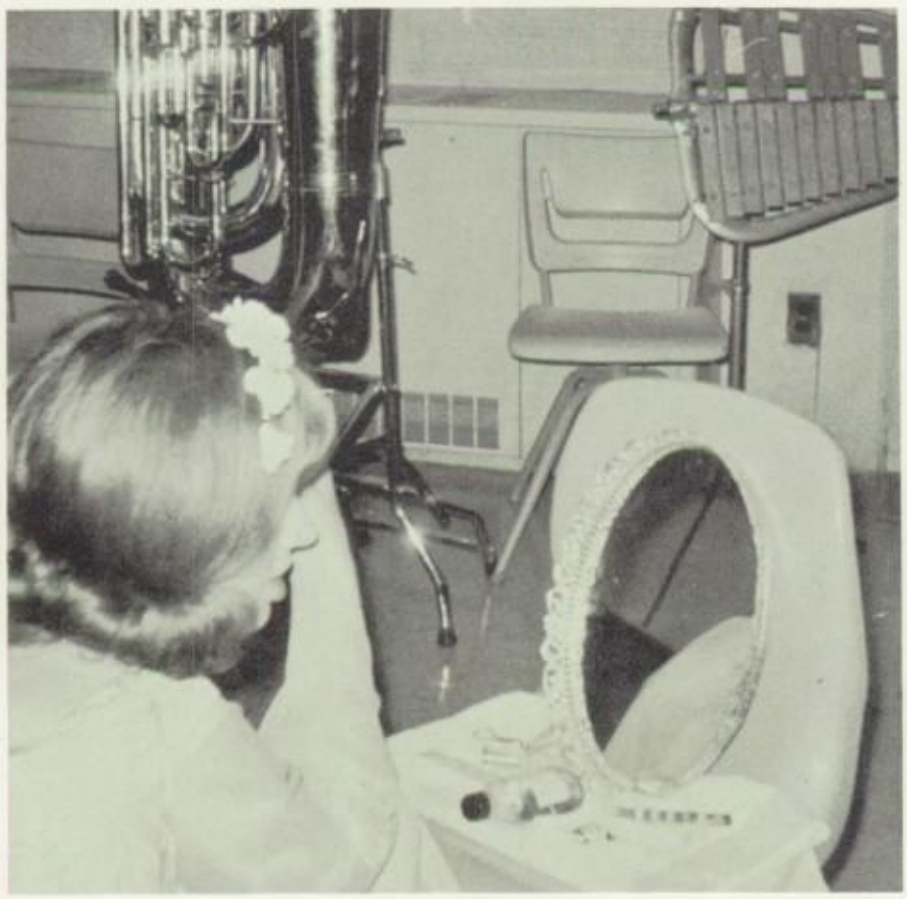
Karen Olsen preforms in the warm-up room.

Grosvenor, Lady Jane and Mike Watkins (make-up director), await the final moment.

Three aesthetic poets: Colonel Calverley, Lieutenant the Duke of Dunstable, Major Margatroyd.

Mr. Kummer helps direct the activities involved in presenting the operetta.

Vaughn Whitfield playing Major Murgatroyd awaits his turn on stage while nervously standing at attention.



Karen Olsen finishes making up before her performance.

Mr. Provow, head of concessions, calmly scans the program.

Tim Ricketts accepts help from Cathy Hagen in getting ready to face the audience.

Linda Tatro and Barry Pheifer try to calm each other before the big event.

The Singing Santas greet students at the annual Christmas Assembly.

Lincoln-Way

Christmas is happiness at Lincoln-Way. All the events during the weeks before Christmas keep everyone in the holiday spirit. Each class decorates a hall, and the individual classrooms are decorated for a contest. The Driver's Education room won this year's $15 prize. For the first time in L-W's history, a Christmas Queen was crowned by Santa at the annual Christmas Dance. The Queen was Bev Otis; Senior Kathy Malloy was first runner-up, and Junior Michelle Dranchak was second runner-up. During the last week before vacation, the Girl's Glee, directed by the Cowardly Lion (Mr. Kummer), presented an assembly for the entire student body. The theme of the assembly was "Santa in Oz." The assembly helped to keep the mood of Christmas merry for the entire school.

This fireplace helped to keep the rooms in the warm and merry mood of Christmas.

Contest Play

The contest play of the '66-'67 school year was Jean Kerr's Our Hearts were Young and Gay based upon the book by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough.

The characters of the book and the play, along with their Lincoln-Way counterparts, are as follows: Cornelia (Anita Kahl), Emily (Donna Hicks), Otis Skinner (Michael Watkins), Mrs. Skinner (Patsy Grisham), Monsieur De La Croix (Tim Ricketts), Leo McEvoy (Joel Hamilton), Dick Winters (Tom Brouliette), Therese (Janet Rochell), Madam Elise (Colleen Buckler), and the window cleaner (Larry Griffen).

"Hurry up and snap it. I can't hold this smile much longer," said Miss Lerner, the director of the play.

Good-byes come hard for Tom Brouilette, Donna Hicks, Joel Hamilton, and Anita Kahl.

The play concerns itself with Cornelia and Emily, two stage-struck girls spending a summer in Paris in hopes of gaining "culture" and furthering their careers in the theater.

The one-act play was originally done for the district speech contest. Finding the results so outstanding, the play was again presented for the Parent Teacher Group.

The cast members of Our Hearts Were Young and Gay are: Row 1: L. Griffen, A. Kahl, D. Hicks, T. Ricketts, P. Grisham. Row 2: J. Rochelle, C. Buckler, J. Hamilton, T. Brouilette, M. Watkins.

Knight Life 1967

The spring Knight Life show is a tradition that the Lincoln-Way Girls Glee takes pride in presenting. The entire show is an original creation written by the girls under the supervision of Mr. Kummer, Mr. Olsen, and Mr. Taylor.

Work on this year's show began before Christmas. The script committee along with Mr. Kummer and Mr. Snook, composed the first basic outline. This outline contains what the scene is about and how many scenes the show is divided into. Getting the setting and general idea for the activity is the next step, then the dialogue is added.

Once the script is written, the work of perfecting this basic outline is begun. The scenery is built, painted, and collected for each individual scene. Costumes are ordered, made and altered for each individual in the scenes. Music for the show is rehearsed during class and in after school practices. Finally opening night comes, the make-up is applied, costumes are put on and everyone appears on stage. When the curtain goes up the 1967 Knight Life show is well on its way to becoming part of the tradition.

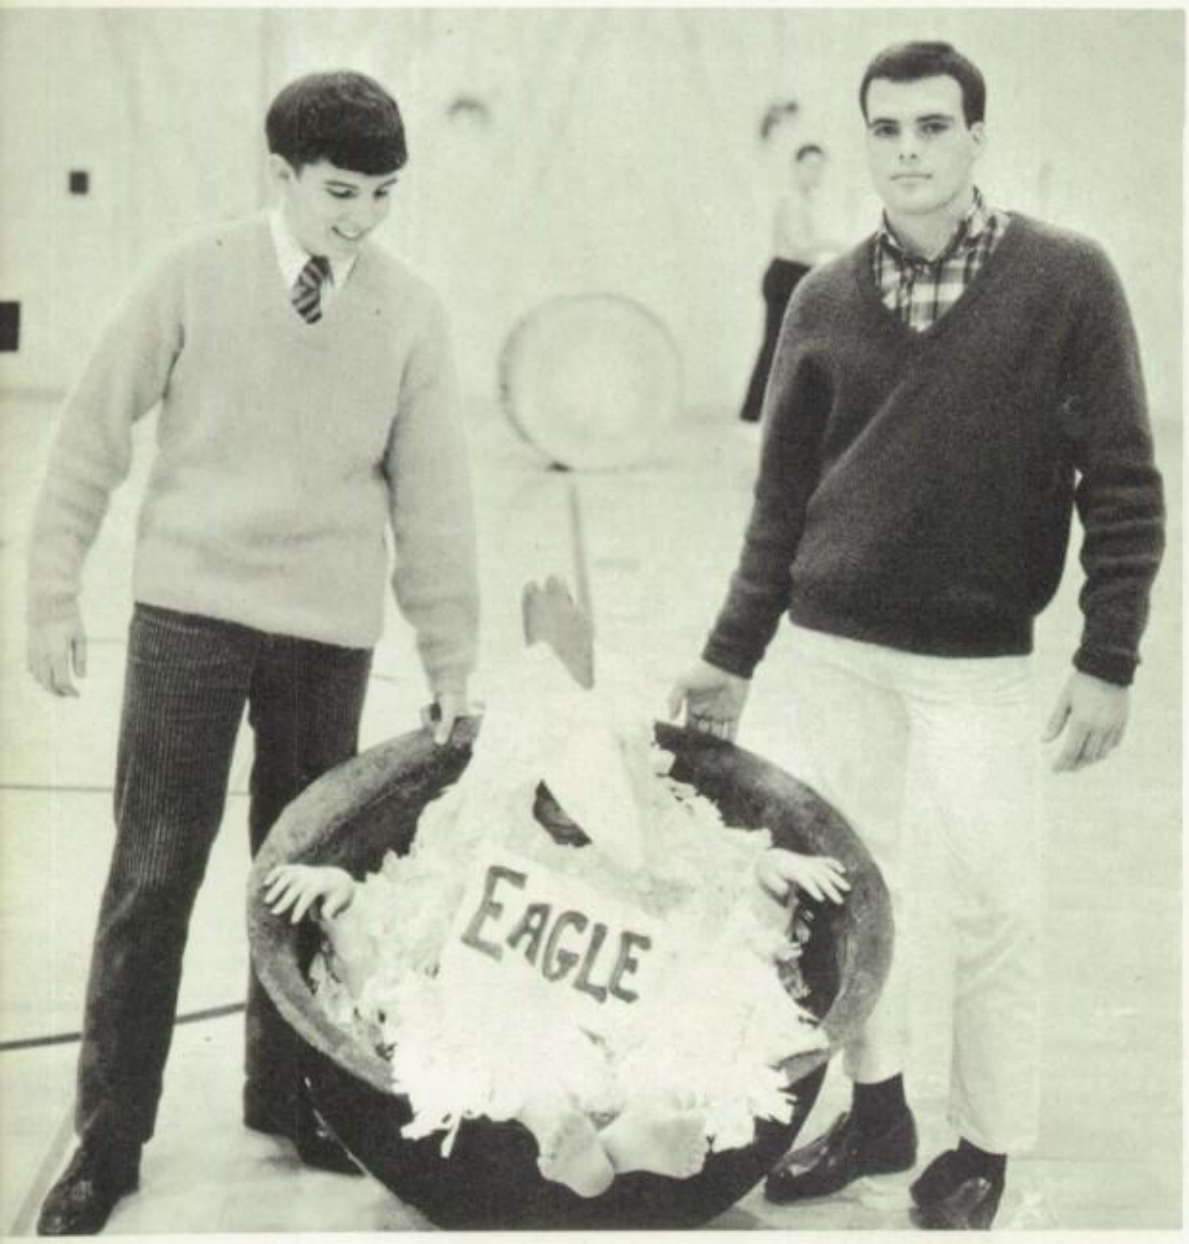
LINCOLN-WAY Assemblies Are...



Entertaining

Peggy Balu battles Sharmon Shroeder for possesion of the ball.

The Senior

In the '66-'67 Senior Challenge, it was the Senior Sweethearts victorious over the Junior Daisies by a score of 24-10; and the faculty defeated the Senior All-Stars by the close margin of one point, 63-62.

The Senior Challenge is sponsored annually by the Senior class, and is a money-making project for the class.

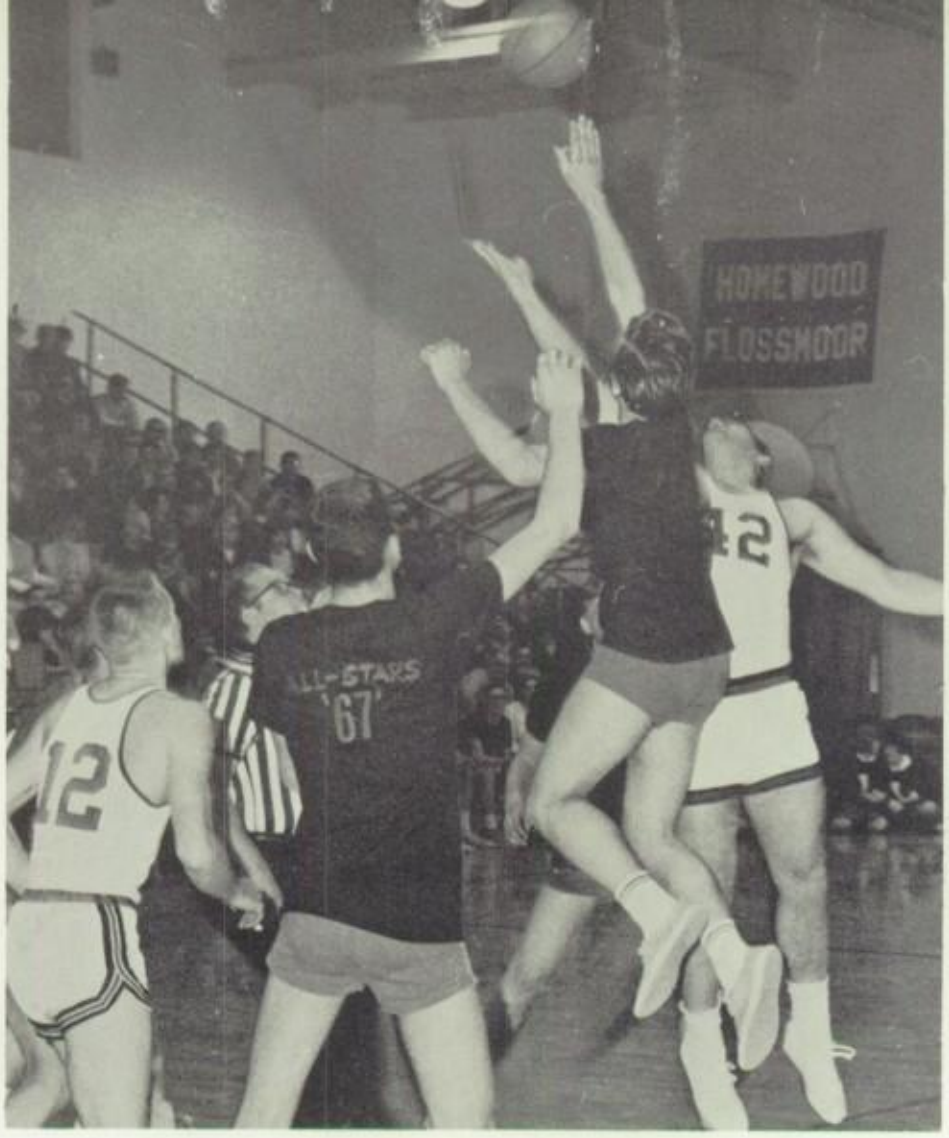
Battles under the boards are common in Girl's Basketball.



Both Ken Kamradt and Mr. Mirkovich would like to get that jump ball.

Challenge

Dave Eden and Tom Roberts are shown with the senior mascot Fanny Mae Freckles.

Bob Kiedaish jumps back as Mr. Celba comes down with the rebound.

It looks like the Faculty will get that one.

SENIORS

Lincoln-Way's Class of 1967 numbers two-hundred and sixty-nine. Being a Senior is many things including saying "Goodbye" to steadfast friends, favorite teachers, and familiar classrooms.

The class has been extremely active. Perhaps the year may be most remembered for its Carnaby Street sock hop, one of the biggest and best ever presented. The dress was mod, and lively band provided the music. The Seniors also presented Cupid's Night Out, a sock-hop after the Junior-Senior basketball game. An added attraction at this year's game was a Tug-O-War between selected male members of the Junior and Senior classes. The presentation of the movie, "Charade" helped to provide money for the class trip.

The traditional prom, banquet, Senior Honor Night, and graduation served as perfect concluding events to an unforgetable year.

Underclassmen

Our Junior year is a year of many activities and challenges. The largest activity is the planning of the Prom, which holds both frustrations and rewards. The Junior year is a mixture of Varsity games, going steady, and class rings. All through our history at Lincoln-Way, the class has been known as a group of "action kids." We would like to be worthy of this title next year by showing that we can be more active than ever in our final year.

Dan Machalek and Kevin Smith find the study of electronics quite fascinating.

Larry DuBien finds his new edition of Mechanics Illustrated much more interesting than his biology assignment.

The class of '69 has now come one year closer to the opening of the doors to the future. We would like to think of ourselves as an active class, participating in Student Council, cheerleading, and all types of athletics. We hope that the activities we have taken part in will help us to become more actively associated with the class responsibilities in our last two years at Lincoln-Way.

The freshman year is the beginning of four years of fun and education. It opens the doors to a bright, new horizon. Although freshmen look upon high school life a bit apprehensively at first, they adjust to it quite well. The freshman learn to become actively involved with life at Lincoln-Way by electing class officers and student council members. Among the projects the Class of 1970 undertook are decorating a flat for Homecoming and having a magazine sale, that turned out to be the best in Lincoln-Way's history. During their first year, the freshmen learn to obey school rules and become acquainted with all school policies. They acquire the foothold that will help them to make their remaining three years at Lincoln-Way favorable ones.

AEGIS 67

Faculty

FACULTY

The 1966-67 faculty at Lincoln-Way is unique in that they are young and active in many ways. Almost all act as club or class sponsors. Several times throughout the year's pep assemblies, such well-knowns as Mrs. Bills, Mr. Bobis, Mr. Snook, and Mr. Willis gave rousing pep-talks. Mr. Steed made himself notorious as the only faculty member brave enough to arrive wearing shorts on sports day. The Senior and Satellite Basketball games are only a few examples of the young and active spirit of the faculty. Throughout the year they have helped to complete the totally vigorous picture of Lincoln-Way.

Mr. Pitcairin looks at the homecoming display with a feeling of pride, for it represents the spirit of the students.

Your present four years at Lincoln-Way should be the most pleasant and rewarding period in your entire lives. You are aware of the many problems facing our nation, along with the many mistakes of the older generations. You will not become too concerned about these shortcomings until after your graduation, however, now is the time to make the necessary preparation in order to provide the leadership in helping others to avoid these same problems.

Your board of education, teachers, and community leaders have energetically tried to provide you with the best school within their financial limitations. A school for which you could always appreciate and be justly proud. These adult groups have also been proud of your record, along with the development of so many desirable good citizenship characteristics.

The training in skills, attitudes, self discipline, character and personality you receive here, will in a large measure determine the guide lines for your future. Presently, your most important objective is to finish the job you started, and to let nothing interfere in doing only the best.

My personal congratulations to our 1967 Aegis staff for their efforts in producing this year's colorful history of Lincoln-Way. My very best wishes to a wonderful student body, sincerely trusting a most successful and bright future.

A. Hunter Chapman

GUIDANCE

The guidance department consists of people who are professional educators with specialized graduate-level training in counseling and related guidance services. Their major concern is to help the student solve any of the problems that may be bothering him. The two terms, guidance and counseling, are different in operation. Guidance informs students about colleges and educational plans. Counseling helps students to better understand himself and his environment and the relationship between them.

LIBRARY

Lois Ebert and June Nieland busily at work after the morning rush of returned books.

Lincoln-Way is proud of having one of the best and most complete libraries in the area. There is enough shelving space for thousands of books. A wide variety of subjects are covered from plays to wild animals of Africa. There is a seating capacity for more than 150 people. There are separate desks for students who wish to study, and there are tables for browsing through magazines or newspapers. Mrs. Ebert's and Mrs. Neiland's help make possible an efficient library under the charge of Mr. Denoff. With these three assistants and the aid of student assistants the library is kept efficient, and students are helped with their questions.

Mr. Denoff, the on the move Librarian, and Jeff Setoris, library assistant, question the "intent" of some of the students in the reserve room.

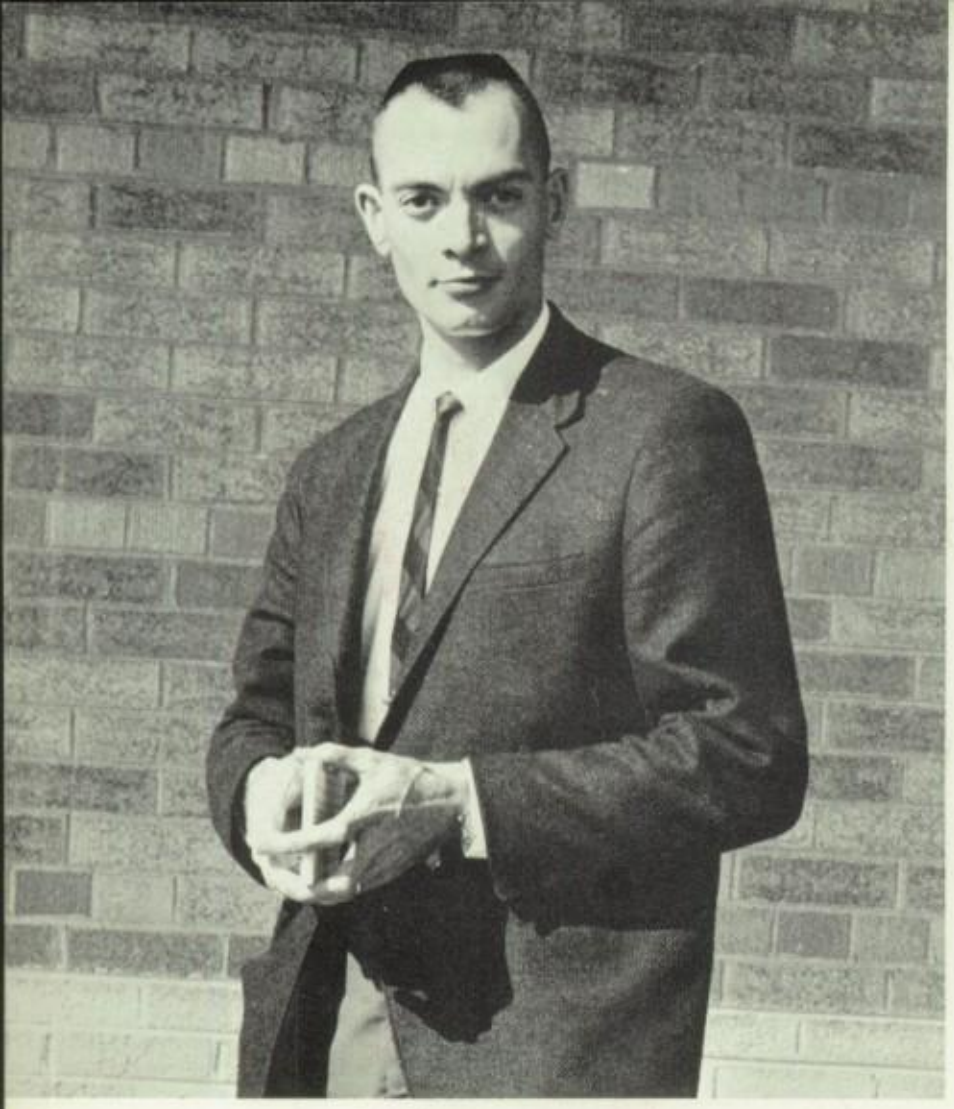
L-W Coaches

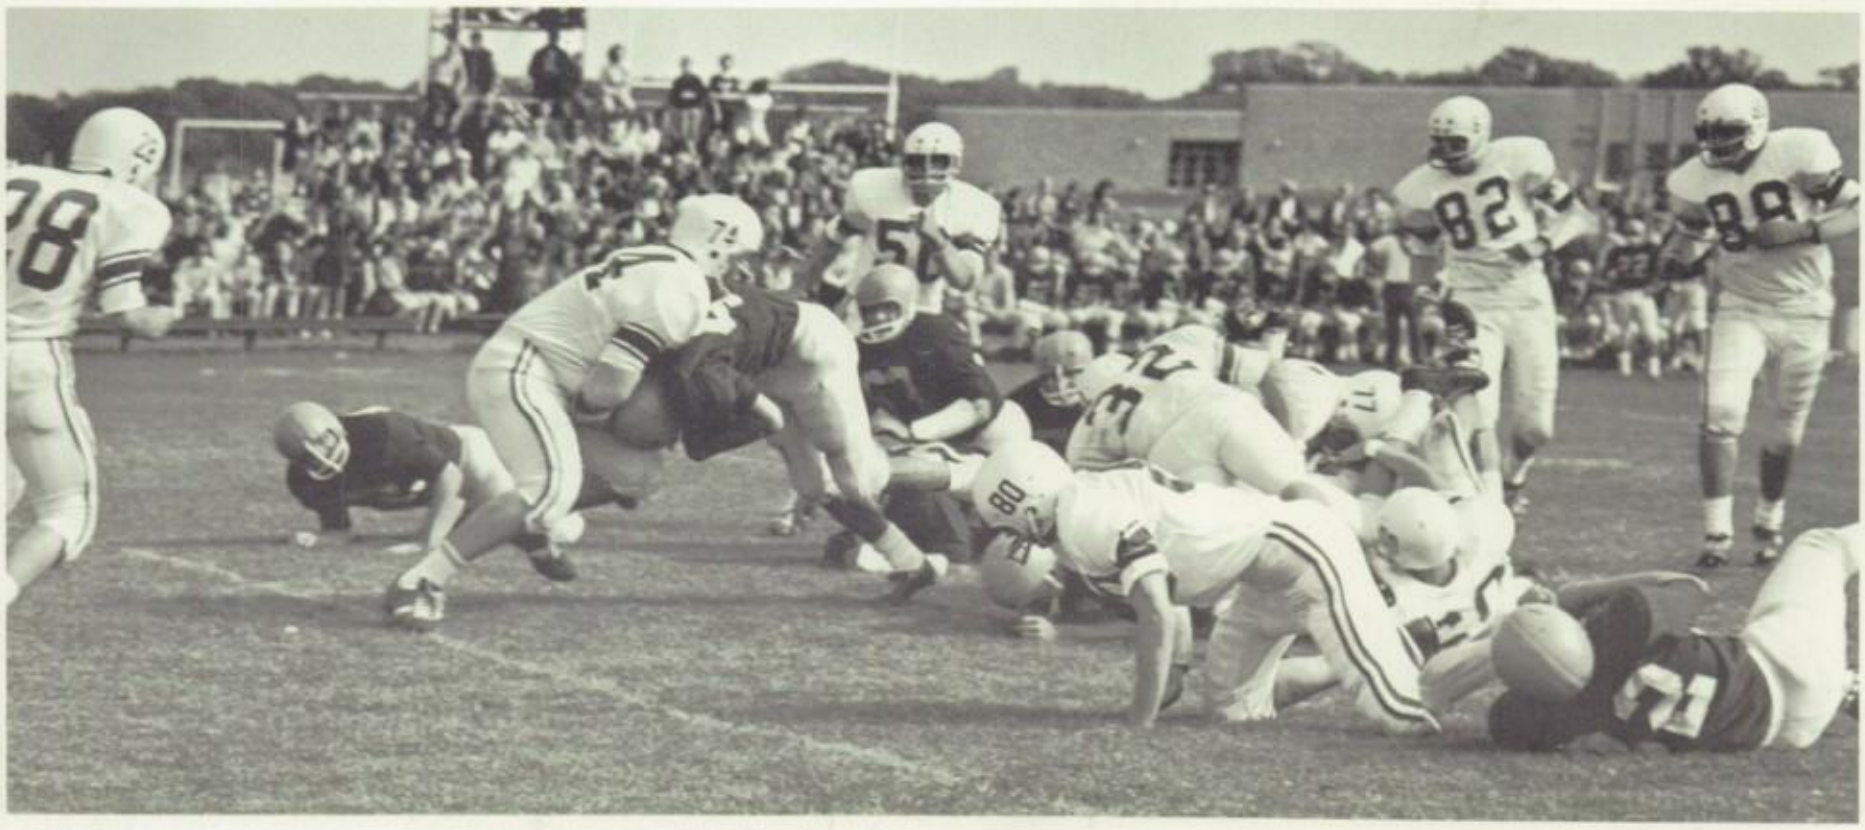


Mr. West, the man behind the scenes, is the director of athletics for the fighting Knights.

The Varsity football coaches are Mr. Stopka (head) and Mr. Snook.

The Sophomore football coaches are Mr. Lezotte (Head) and Mr. Mirkovich.

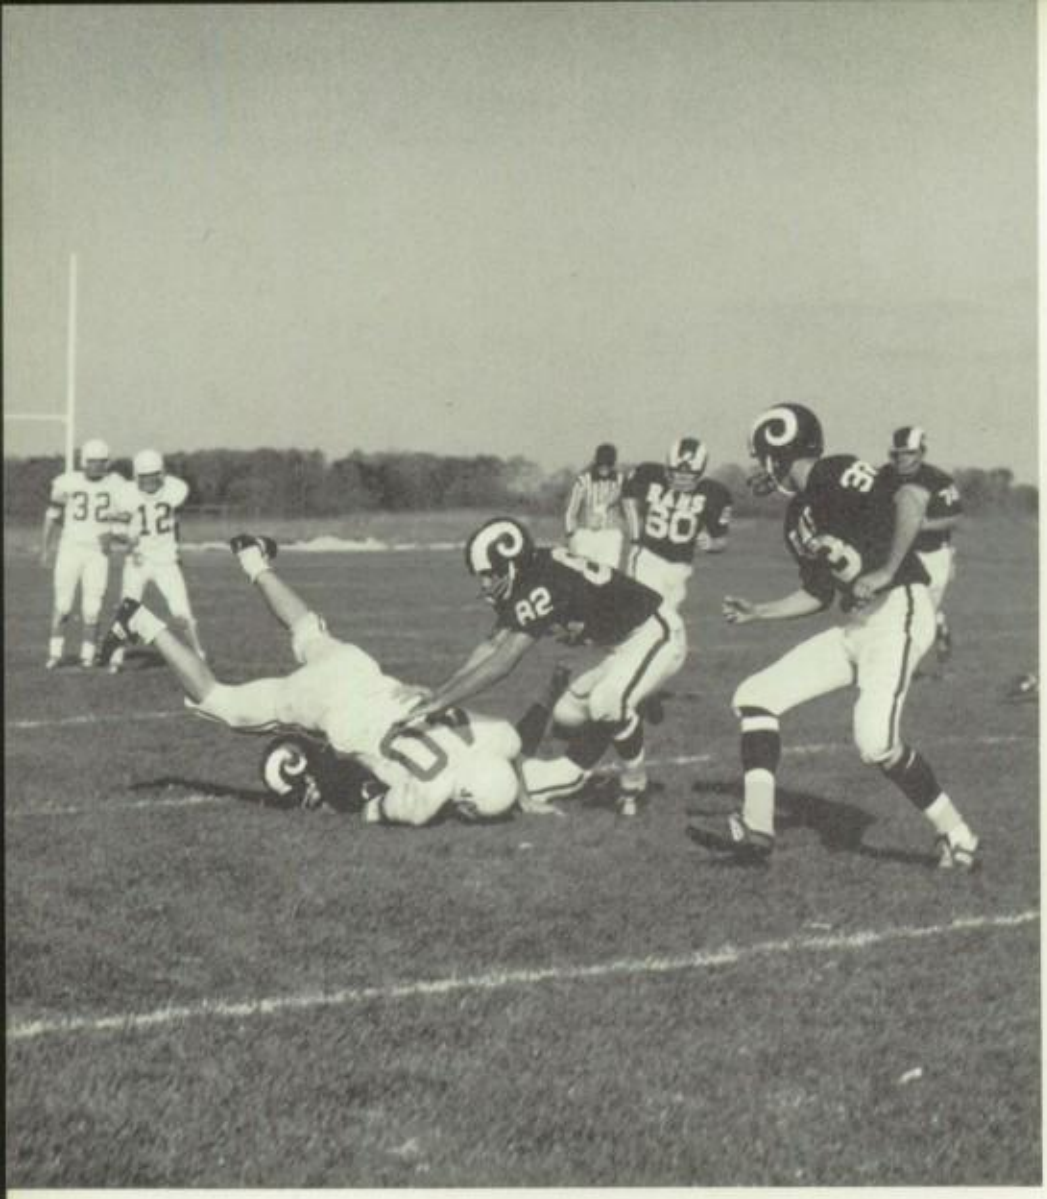
The freshmen coaches are Mr. Vogelsang, Mr. Marco, Mr. Celba.



The Knights and Eagles hit the dirt.

Marty Novak, assisted by his teammates, drives for that extra yard.

Our boys stop the Eagles from gaining extra yardage.

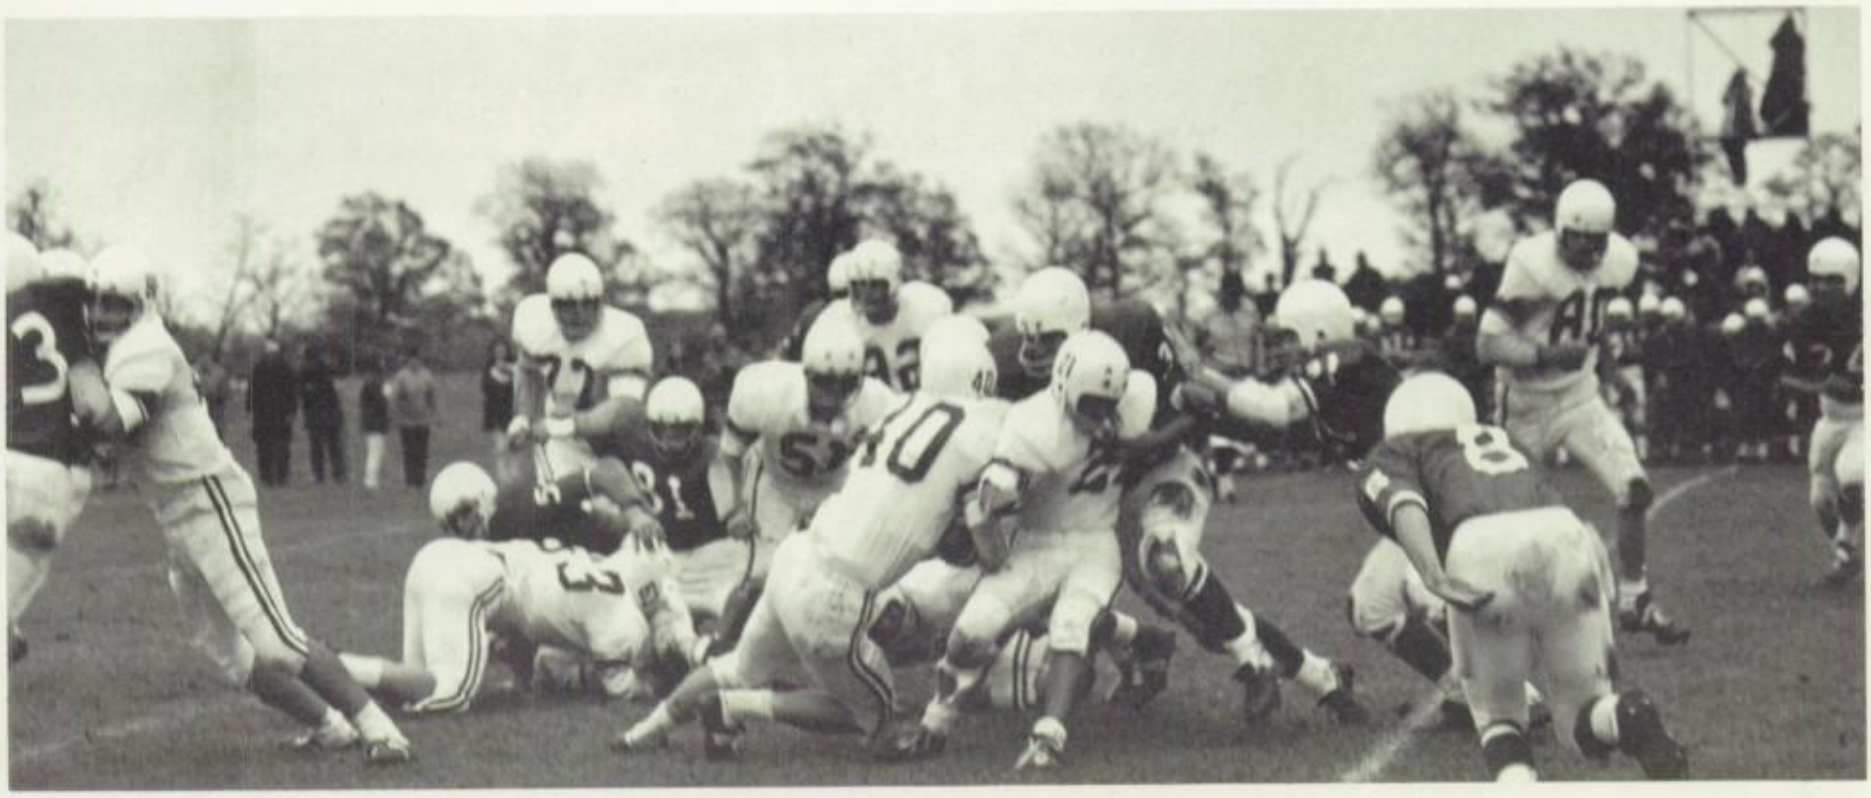


Football is not always right side up, it can be upside down as Mike Yeager discovers.

Marty Novak desperately holds possession of the ball.

The Fighting Knights

The Knights open the game by running through the traditional lining of the goalposts.



The Knights vs. the Vikings gives the appearance of a wrestling match.

Everyone seems to have lost their balance in the scramble for the pigskin.

Steve Ihde finds it hard to hold on to the ball with Vikings charging him.

Cross Country

The 1966 Cross Country Team is one to be admired. The team was quite successful this year. In the Tinley Park Invitational, and the Joliet Area Meet, the team placed a high second. The team ran away with a big sixth out of 23 teams competing at District Level. Since the team is composed of a majority of juniors, Lincoln-Way can look forward to a fine repeat performance from these boys next year.

Basketball 1967

Breaking through the hoop to lead the Knights to their victory over Homewood-Flossmoor is Mike Seitzinger.

Pat McCabe takes to the air for a rebound, while Dave Eden (44) and Mike Seitzinger (24) screen.

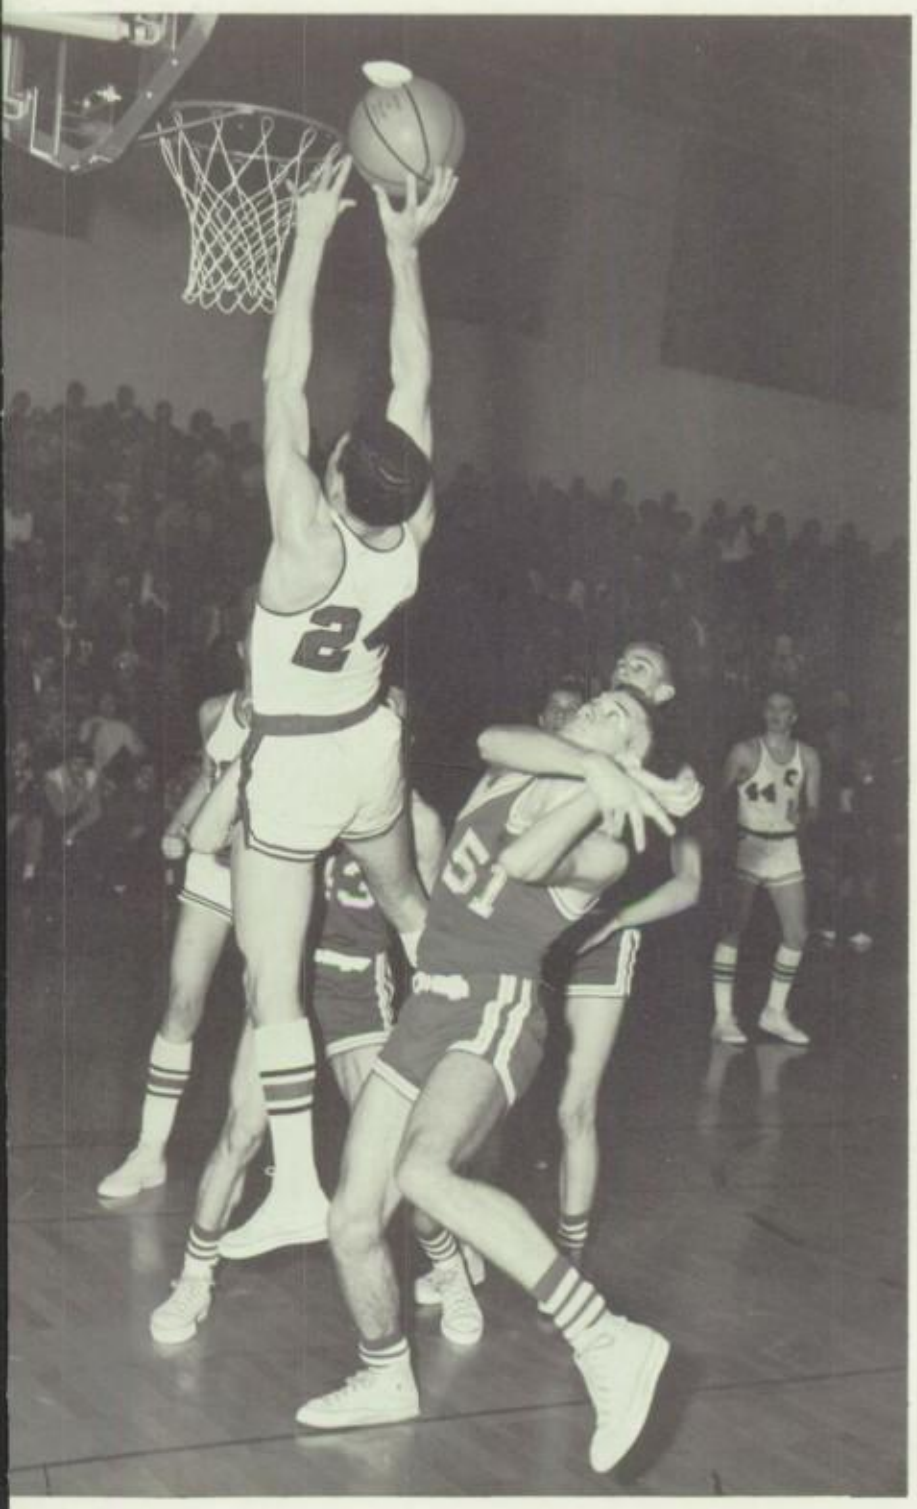
A Homewood-Flossmoor Viking fouls Alan Smith.



Mike Seitzinger goes up for two against non-conference defenders, Peotone.

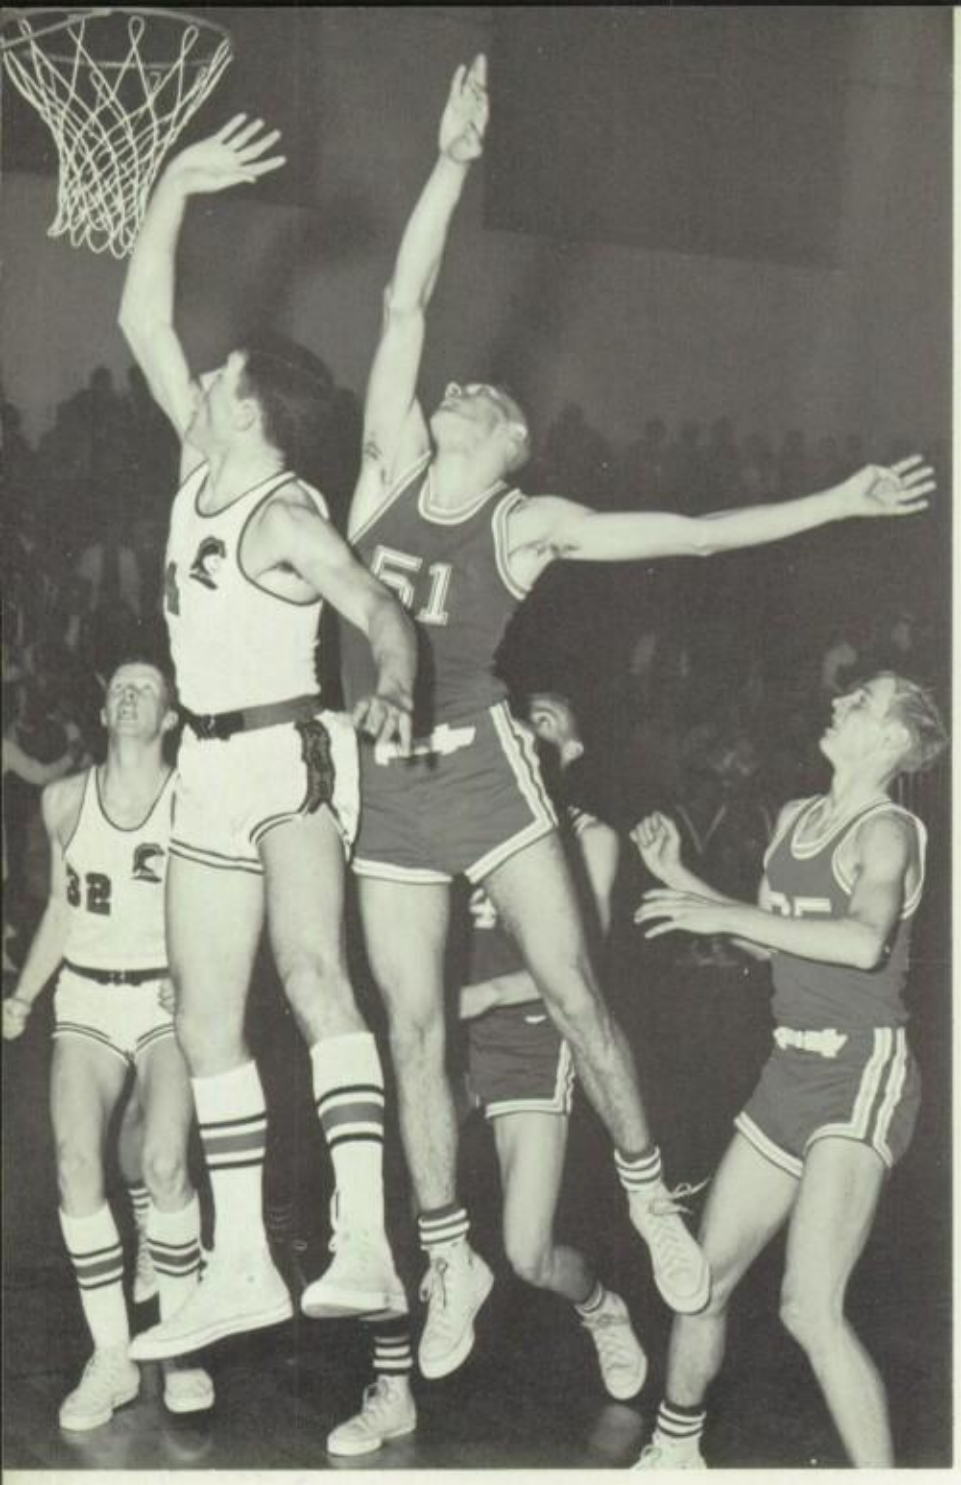
By taking to the air Mike Seitzinger attempts to block the shot of an Oak Lawn defender.

Ball handling seems to come naturally to guard Bill Stanfill.



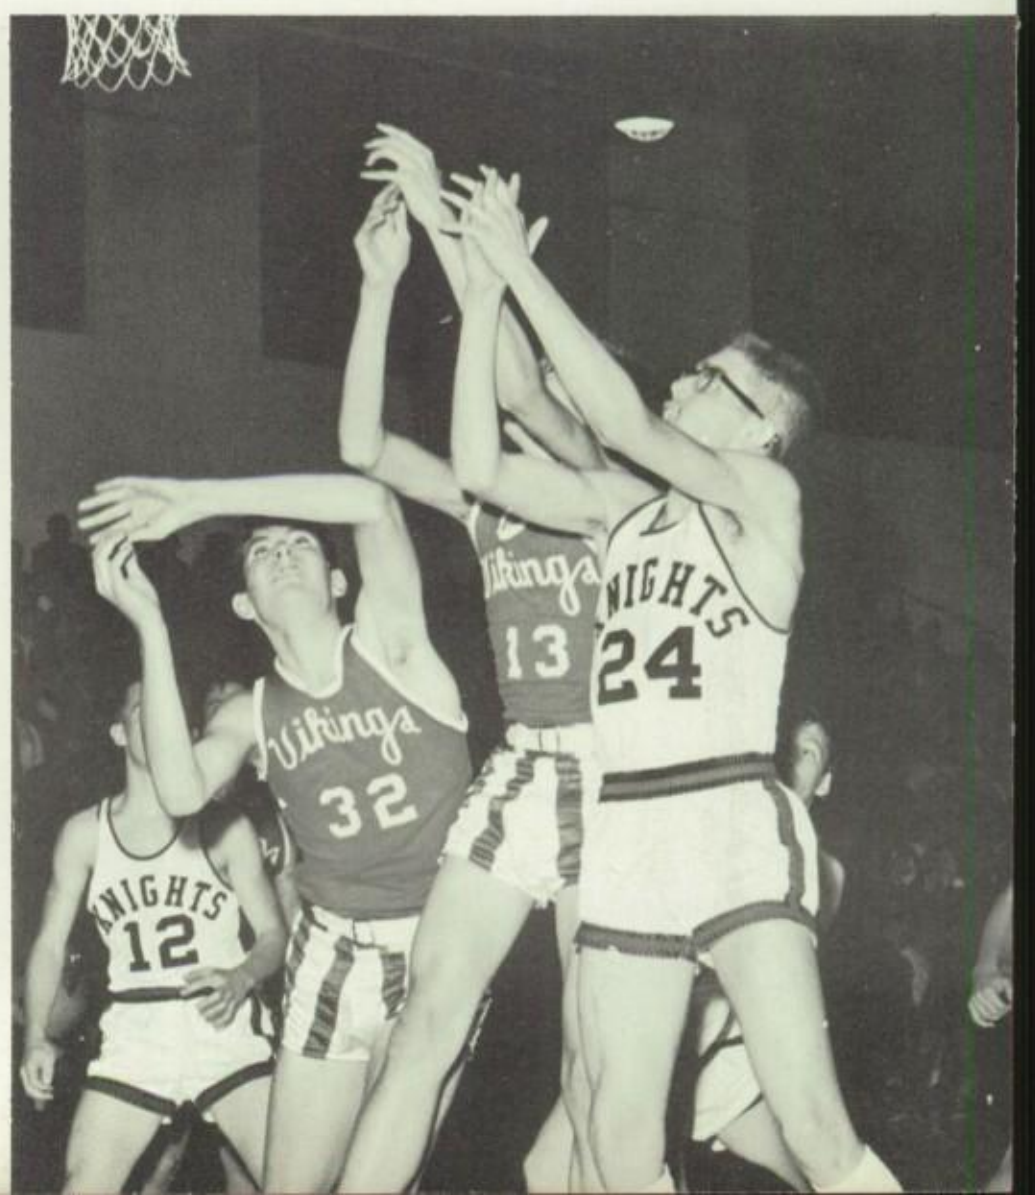
Peotone defenders attempt, in vain, to block a shot of Mike Seitzinger's.

Dave Eden wrestles with player from Peotone, as Pat McCabe (32) looks on.

1967

Craig Otto adds hustle to the Frosh-Soph game against Homewood-Flossmoor.

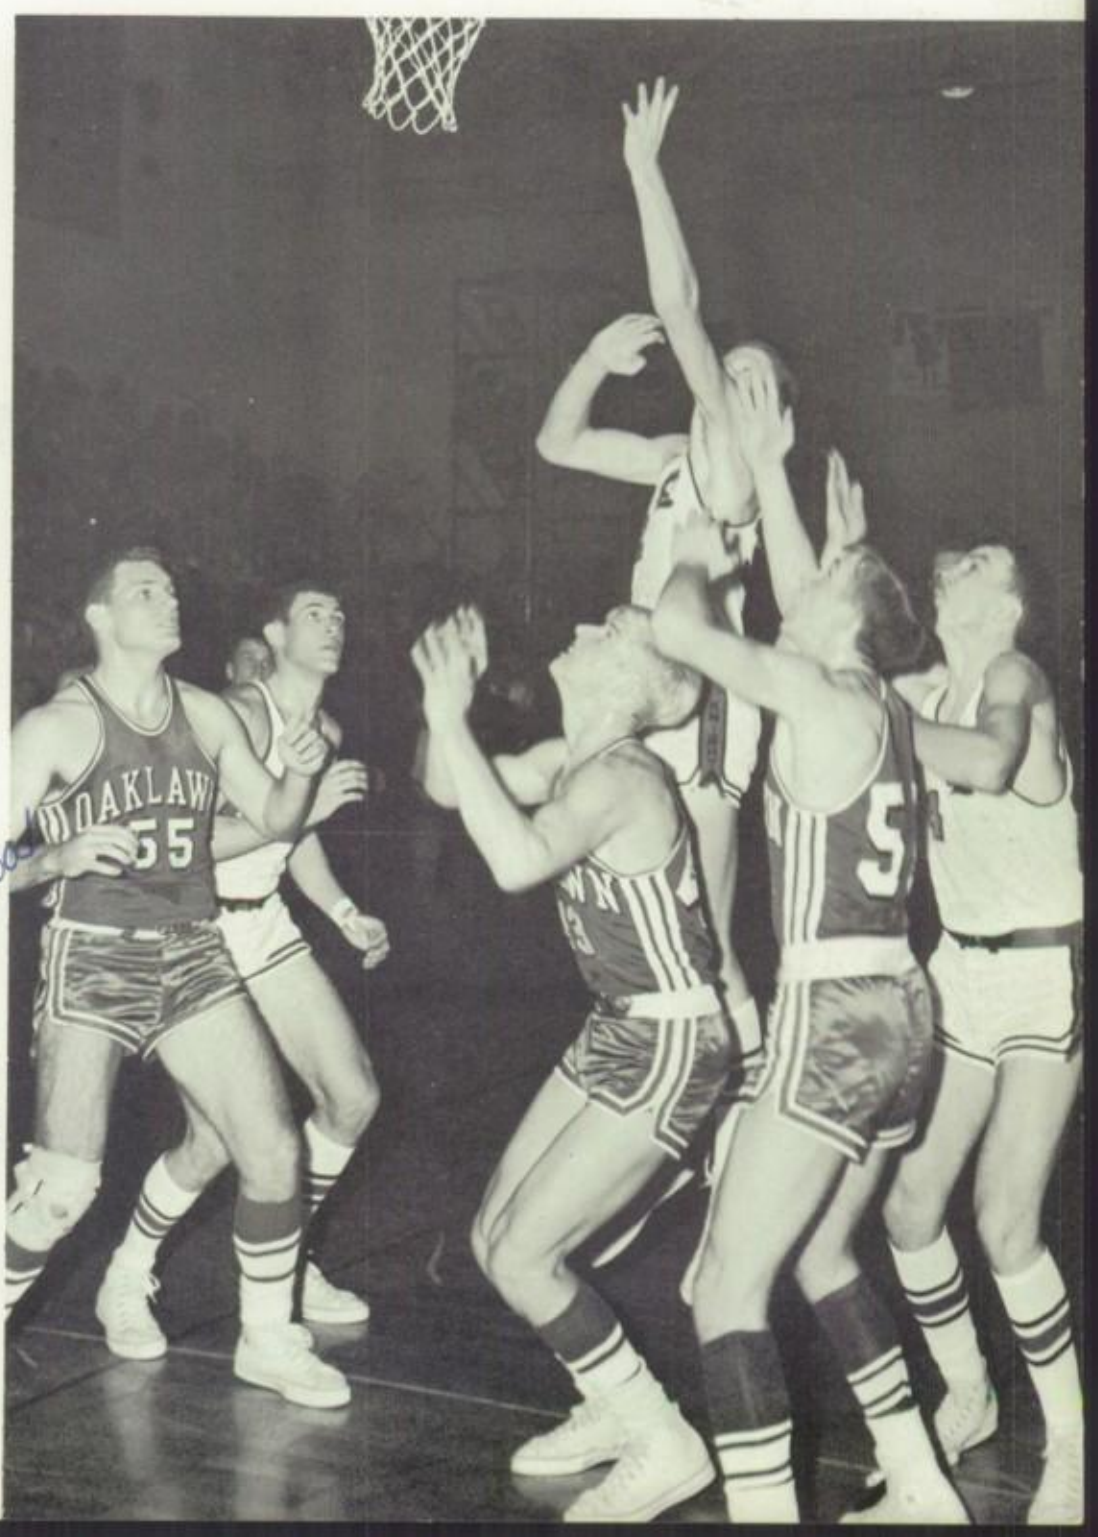
Micky Kruck adds two for the Knights.



Coach Willis and the Varsity Knights look both relieved and tired as another victory comes into sight.

Jim Fredin brings the ball towards the Knight's basket as Mike Seitzinger moves into position.

In the center of the Oak Lawn defense, Pat McCabe tries for another basket.



Pat McCabe flies high as he shoots, while a Homewood-Flossmoor defender looks on in amazement.

Student Council

G. Radd, R. Case, J. Fredin, F. Dunn, C. Tinley, B. Stanfill.

Lincoln-Way's Student Council consists of twenty-six students elected from each of the four classes. The Council meets on Tuesday of every week, and standing committee give reports. These committees serve the student body in many ways. They include Suggestions, Citizen of the Month, Concessions, Juke Box, Bulletin Board, and Elections. The Student Council also sponsors little Hi-Soon, Lincoln-Way's foster child.

Although it is essentially a non-profit organization, the Student Council sponsors many activities involving both the school and the community. These activities include: Canned Good Drives, Clothing Drives, Scholarship and Foreign Exchange Student Funds, and all Homecoming events.

To encourage school spirit, and promote participation, this year's Student Council, in co-operation with the Pep Club, sponsored Spirit Week. This week-long event was held February 6 through 10, before the Homewood-Flossmoor basketball game. Spirit Week constituted a poster contest between the classes and a Red and Black contest to determine the class which had the most members wearing the school colors.

Many daily tasks at Lincoln-Way are performed by members of the Student Service Organization. Students monitor studyhalls, lunchlines, and help to take attendance. S.S.O. provides opportunities for self-discipline among Lincoln-Way students and asks the cooperation of all. Mr. Meyer is the S.S.O. director and he is assisted by Executive Board members R. Davis, B. Gast, J. Hagen, S. Ihde, G. Logan, and J. Traser.

Dance Band

Bill Clark was so involved with his music that he didn't even notice the photographer.

Mr. Kummer, Assistant director, played an important part in the activities of the 1967 band. He had complete control of the Dance band and the marching band.

Mr. Kummer enthusiastically leads the L-W band as they cheer for the football team.

Marching Knights

Lee Warner was this year's Drum Major. The twirlers were Rae Ellen Gundelach, Roxanne Burkett, and Evelyn Redman.

The Frosh-Soph Cheerleaders are: Pat Lauffer, Maetha Mutsch, Sally Robertson, Judy Dralle, Shirley Janner, Linda Smith, Kristal Nieland.

Gymnastics

The card girls are picked by the team members from a list of chosen girls. The requirements are a Gymnastics club patch and a genuine interest in the gymnastics activities. Once the girls are chosen they vote on a captain. This year's captain was Teena Snow. The job of the card girl is to get the judges score to the scorekeeper.

Card Girls

Wrestling

For the first time in Lincoln-Way's history, the wrestling team has its own special set of card girls. The girls, who were organized by Mr. Snook and Mary Rooda, attend all of the wrestling meets, and wear red sweaters and black skirts to school on the days of the meets. Lincoln-Way is the only school in the conference to have these girls.

Aegis

Each year a group of Lincoln-Way students give of their free time in order to formulate a yearbook staff. The yearbook they create is in itself the story of a year at Lincoln-Way. It includes pictures of sports, assemblies, fellow classmates, clubs, teachers, and unforgettable events throughout the year.

Jan Holloway, editor-in-chief, attended a yearbook workshop at Northern Illinois University the summer of 1966. Under her leadership, fourteen students met each day sixth period. With Mrs. Sallie Main and Mr. Dan James as advisors, the staff worked to select pictures, finish layouts, write copy, meet deadlines and to put the finished product in the hands of the student body in early May.

Editor-in-chief Jan Holloway signs contracts for the 1966-67 Aegis.

Faculty advisors Mr. James and Mrs. Main look over the selection of pictures for the Aegis.

Assistant Editors Shari Purler and Karen Tani discuss the "Patience" layout with Business Manager Pam Shutte.

Copywriters and typists are: Standing: Betty Howell and Jean Cagwin. Seated: Stephanie Koziateck, Marilee Holman, Sherry Thompson, and Pat Mann.

Aegis Staff includes: Standing: Karen Tani, Pam Shutte, Scott Livengood, Bob Becker, Pat Mann, Stephanie Koziateck, Marilee Holman, Betty Howell, Sherry Thompson. Kneeling: Larry Griffen, Mrs. Main, Dennis Penley, and camera shy Leta Williams.

Squire

The Lincoln-Way Squire, with a staff of fourteen students and Mr. Glen Steed as advisor, met each day seventh period. The result was a four page, offset newspaper. Some students wrote and edited copy, while still others served as typists, using the IBM variable spacing typewriter.

The 1966-67 Squire celebrated its third year in existence. This year's six issues of the Squire helped students to keep up with Lincoln-Way events and happenings while furnishing a challenge to the Journalism class.

Editor-in-chief, Ginger Radd, peeks over the Thanksgiving issue of the Squire.
